

Energized Electrical Work Audit

Project Description:				Date:
Project/Work Order Number:		Building Number:
Location (Room, Col. #):		Supervisor Name:

SECTION A – DETAILS

EQUIPMENT INFORMATION

Equipment Name:		Power Source:
Hazard/Risk Category:		Minimum Arc Rating:
Flash Hazard/Risk Boundary:

DESCRIPTION OF TASK
1	1.1. The first task is to identify the main idea of the text. This is done by reading the text carefully and looking for the main point. 1.2. The second task is to identify the supporting details. This is done by looking for evidence that supports the main idea. 1.3. The third task is to identify the conclusion. This is done by looking for the final statement or the statement that summarizes the main point. 1.4. The fourth task is to identify the author's purpose. This is done by looking for the reason why the author wrote the text. 1.5. The fifth task is to identify the author's tone. This is done by looking for the author's attitude towards the subject. 1.6. The sixth task is to identify the author's bias. This is done by looking for the author's personal feelings or opinions. 1.7. The seventh task is to identify the author's audience. This is done by looking for the people who are most likely to read the text. 1.8. The eighth task is to identify the author's style. This is done by looking for the author's unique way of writing. 1.9. The ninth task is to identify the author's theme. This is done by looking for the main message or the central idea of the text. 1.10. The tenth task is to identify the author's genre. This is done by looking for the type of text that the author has written. 1.11. The eleventh task is to identify the author's subject. This is done by looking for the topic that the author has written about. 1.12. The twelfth task is to identify the author's title. This is done by looking for the name of the text. 1.13. The thirteenth task is to identify the author's date. This is done by looking for the year that the text was written. 1.14. The fourteenth task is to identify the author's location. This is done by looking for the place where the text was written. 1.15. The fifteenth task is to identify the author's education. This is done by looking for the author's level of schooling. 1.16. The sixteenth task is to identify the author's profession. This is done by looking for the author's job. 1.17. The seventeenth task is to identify the author's background. This is done by looking for the author's life story. 1.18. The eighteenth task is to identify the author's personality. This is done by looking for the author's characteristics. 1.19. The nineteenth task is to identify the author's beliefs. This is done by looking for the author's values. 1.20. The twentieth task is to identify the author's opinions. This is done by looking for the author's views on the subject. 1.21. The twenty-first task is to identify the author's feelings. This is done by looking for the author's emotions. 1.22. The twenty-second task is to identify the author's thoughts. This is done by looking for the author's ideas. 1.23. The twenty-third task is to identify the author's actions. This is done by looking for the author's behavior. 1.24. The twenty-fourth task is to identify the author's words. This is done by looking for the author's language. 1.25. The twenty-fifth task is to identify the author's style. This is done by looking for the author's unique way of writing. 1.26. The twenty-sixth task is to identify the author's theme. This is done by looking for the main message or the central idea of the text. 1.27. The twenty-seventh task is to identify the author's genre. This is done by looking for the type of text that the author has written. 1.28. The twenty-eighth task is to identify the author's subject. This is done by looking for the topic that the author has written about. 1.29. The twenty-ninth task is to identify the author's title. This is done by looking for the name of the text. 1.30. The thirtieth task is to identify the author's date. This is done by looking for the year that the text was written. 1.31. The thirty-first task is to identify the author's location. This is done by looking for the place where the text was written. 1.32. The thirty-second task is to identify the author's education. This is done by looking for the author's level of schooling. 1.33. The thirty-third task is to identify the author's profession. This is done by looking for the author's job. 1.34. The thirty-fourth task is to identify the author's background. This is done by looking for the author's life story. 1.35. The thirty-fifth task is to identify the author's personality. This is done by looking for the author's characteristics. 1.36. The thirty-sixth task is to identify the author's beliefs. This is done by looking for the author's values. 1.37. The thirty-seventh task is to identify the author's opinions. This is done by looking for the author's views on the subject. 1.38. The thirty-eighth task is to identify the author's feelings. This is done by looking for the author's emotions. 1.39. The thirty-ninth task is to identify the author's thoughts. This is done by looking for the author's ideas. 1.40. The fortieth task is to identify the author's actions. This is done by looking for the author's behavior. 1.41. The forty-first task is to identify the author's words. This is done by looking for the author's language. 1.42. The forty-second task is to identify the author's style. This is done by looking for the author's unique way of writing. 1.43. The forty-third task is to identify the author's theme. This is done by looking for the main message or the central idea of the text. 1.44. The forty-fourth task is to identify the author's genre. This is done by looking for the type of text that the author has written. 1.45. The forty-fifth task is to identify the author's subject. This is done by looking for the topic that the author has written about. 1.46. The forty-sixth task is to identify the author's title. This is done by looking for the name of the text. 1.47. The forty-seventh task is to identify the author's date. This is done by looking for the year that the text was written. 1.48. The forty-eighth task is to identify the author's location. This is done by looking for the place where the text was written. 1.49. The forty-ninth task is to identify the author's education. This is done by looking for the author's level of schooling. 1.50. The fiftieth task is to identify the author's profession. This is done by looking for the author's job. 1.51. The fifty-first task is to identify the author's background. This is done by looking for the author's life story. 1.52. The fifty-second task is to identify the author's personality. This is done by looking for the author's characteristics. 1.53. The fifty-third task is to identify the author's beliefs. This is done by looking for the author's values. 1.54. The fifty-fourth task is to identify the author's opinions. This is done by looking for the author's views on the subject. 1.55. The fifty-fifth task is to identify the author's feelings. This is done by looking for the author's emotions. 1.56. The fifty-sixth task is to identify the author's thoughts. This is done by looking for the author's ideas. 1.57. The fifty-seventh task is to identify the author's actions. This is done by looking for the author's behavior. 1.58. The fifty-eighth task is to identify the author's words. This is done by looking for the author's language. 1.59. The fifty-ninth task is to identify the author's style. This is done by looking for the author's unique way of writing. 1.60. The sixtieth task is to identify the author's theme. This is done by looking for the main message or the central idea of the text. 1.61. The sixty-first task is to identify the author's genre. This is done by looking for the type of text that the author has written. 1.62. The sixty-second task is to identify the author's subject. This is done by looking for the topic that the author has written about. 1.63. The sixty-third task is to identify the author's title. This is done by looking for the name of the text. 1.64. The sixty-fourth task is to identify the author's date. This is done by looking for the year that the text was written. 1.65. The sixty-fifth task is to identify the author's location. This is done by looking for the place where the text was written. 1.66. The sixty-sixth task is to identify the author's education. This is done by looking for the author's level of schooling. 1.67. The sixty-seventh task is to identify the author's profession. This is done by looking for the author's job. 1.68. The sixty-eighth task is to identify the author's background. This is done by looking for the author's life story. 1.69. The sixty-ninth task is to identify the author's personality. This is done by looking for the author's characteristics. 1.70. The seventieth task is to identify the author's beliefs. This is done by looking for the author's values. 1.71. The seventy-first task is to identify the author's opinions. This is done by looking for the author's views on the subject. 1.72. The seventy-second task is to identify the author's feelings. This is done by looking for the author's emotions. 1.73. The seventy-third task is to identify the author's thoughts. This is done by looking for the author's ideas. 1.74. The seventy-fourth task is to identify the author's actions. This is done by looking for the author's behavior. 1.75. The seventy-fifth task is to identify the author's words. This is done by looking for the author's language. 1.76. The seventy-sixth task is to identify the author's style. This is done by looking for the author's unique way of writing. 1.77. The seventy-seventh task is to identify the author's theme. This is done by looking for the main message or the central idea of the text. 1.78. The seventy-eighth task is to identify the author's genre. This is done by looking for the type of text that the author has written. 1.79. The seventy-ninth task is to identify the author's subject. This is done by looking for the topic that the author has written about. 1.80. The eightieth task is to identify the author's title. This is done by looking for the name of the text. 1.81. The eighty-first task is to identify the author's date. This is done by looking for the year that the text was written. 1.82. The eighty-second task is to identify the author's location. This is done by looking for the place where the text was written. 1.83. The eighty-third task is to identify the author's education. This is done by looking for the author's level of schooling. 1.84. The eighty-fourth task is to identify the author's profession. This is done by looking for the author's job. 1.85. The eighty-fifth task is to identify the author's background. This is done by looking for the author's life story. 1.86. The eighty-sixth task is to identify the author's personality. This is done by looking for the author's characteristics. 1.87. The eighty-seventh task is to identify the author's beliefs. This is done by looking for the author's values. 1.88. The eighty-eighth task is to identify the author's opinions. This is done by looking for the author's views on the subject. 1.89. The eighty-ninth task is to identify the author's feelings. This is done by looking for the author's emotions. 1.90. The ninetieth task is to identify the author's thoughts. This is done by looking for the author's ideas. 1.91. The ninety-first task is to identify the author's actions. This is done by looking for the author's behavior. 1.92. The ninety-second task is to identify the author's words. This is done by looking for the author's language. 1.93. The ninety-third task is to identify the author's style. This is done by looking for the author's unique way of writing. 1.94. The ninety-fourth task is to identify the author's theme. This is done by looking for the main message or the central idea of the text. 1.95. The ninety-fifth task is to identify the author's genre. This is done by looking for the type of text that the author has written. 1.96. The ninety-sixth task is to identify the author's subject. This is done by looking for the topic that the author has written about. 1.97. The ninety-seventh task is to identify the author's title. This is done by looking for the name of the text. 1.98. The ninety-eighth task is to identify the author's date. This is done by looking for the year that the text was written. 1.99. The ninety-ninth task is to identify the author's location. This is done by looking for the place where the text was written. 2.00. The hundredth task is to identify the author's education. This is done by looking for the author's level of schooling. 2.01. The hundred-first task is to identify the author's profession. This is done by looking for the author's job. 2.02. The hundred-second task is to identify the author's background. This is done by looking for the author's life story. 2.03. The hundred-third task is to identify the author's personality. This is done by looking for the author's characteristics. 2.04. The hundred-fourth task is to identify the author's beliefs. This is done by looking for the author's values. 2.05. The hundred-fifth task is to identify the author's opinions. This is done by looking for the author's views on the subject. 2.06. The hundred-sixth task is to identify the author's feelings. This is done by looking for the author's emotions. 2.07. The hundred-seventh task is to identify the author's thoughts. This is done by looking for the author's ideas. 2.08. The hundred-eighth task is to identify the author's actions. This is done by looking for the author's behavior. 2.09. The hundred-ninth task is to identify the author's words. This is done by looking for the author's language. 2.10. The hundred-tenth task is to identify the author's style. This is done by looking for the author's unique way of writing. 2.11. The hundred-eleventh task is to identify the author's theme. This is done by looking for the main message or the central idea of the text. 2.12. The hundred-twelfth task is to identify the author's genre. This is done by looking for the type of text that the author has written. 2.13. The hundred-thirteenth task is to identify the author's subject. This is done by looking for the topic that the author has written about. 2.14. The hundred-fourteenth task is to identify the author's title. This is done by looking for the name of the text. 2.15. The hundred-fifteenth task is to identify the author's date. This is done by looking for the year that the text was written. 2.16. The hundred-sixteenth task is to identify the author's location. This is done by looking for the place where the text was written. 2.17. The hundred-seventeenth task is to identify the author's education. This is done by looking for the author's level of schooling. 2.18. The hundred-eighteenth task is to identify the author's profession. This is done by looking for the author's job. 2.19. The hundred-nineteenth task is to identify the author's background. This is done by looking for the author's life story. 2.20. The hundred-twentieth task is to identify the author's personality. This is done by looking for the author's characteristics. 2.21. The hundred-twenty-first task is to identify the author's beliefs. This is done by looking for the author's values. 2.22. The hundred-twenty-second task is to identify the author's opinions. This is done by looking for the author's views on the subject. 2.23. The hundred-twenty-third task is to identify the author's feelings. This is done by looking for the author's emotions. 2.24. The hundred-twenty-fourth task is to identify the author's thoughts. This is done by looking for the author's ideas. 2.25. The hundred-twenty-fifth task is to identify the author's actions. This is done by looking for the author's behavior. 2.26. The hundred-twenty-sixth task is to identify the author's words. This is done by looking for the author's language. 2.27. The hundred-twenty-seventh task is to identify the author's style. This is done by looking for the author's unique way of writing. 2.28. The hundred-twenty-eighth task is to identify the author's theme. This is done by looking for the main message or the central idea of the text. 2.29.

[illegible]

SECTION B – INSPECTION RESULTS

CHECK ITEM		CHECKED	COMMENTS
1	Energized Electrical Work Permit (EEWP) Filled Out Correctly	<input type="checkbox"/>
2	Job Briefing Completed Before Work is Performed	<input type="checkbox"/>
3	Barricades Used to Establish the Appropriate Flash/Hazard Boundary	<input type="checkbox"/>
4	Spotters Used in Areas Where the Flash/Hazard Boundary Exceeds the Available Space in Front of the Panel/Equipment	<input type="checkbox"/>
5	Appropriate PPE Used in Accordance with Shock and Flash Hazard Analysis	<input type="checkbox"/>
6	All Tools and PPE Inspected Prior to Use	<input type="checkbox"/>
7	Thermal Scan of Equipment Complete	<input type="checkbox"/>
8	Guarding such as Mylar/Shielding In-Place	<input type="checkbox"/>
9	Torque Specifications Met and Torque Seal Applied	<input type="checkbox"/>
10	Breaker Settings and Rating Plugs Correct	<input type="checkbox"/>
11	All Tools and Material Removed Before Closing Equipment Doors	<input type="checkbox"/>
12	All Doors and Covers are Closed and Screws in Place	<input type="checkbox"/>
13	Labelling and Panel Schedules Updated with Correct Info and Details	<input type="checkbox"/>
14	Hot Cart Put Away and Work Area Cleaned	<input type="checkbox"/>

SECTION C – NOTES

Notes:

[illegible]

SECTION D – VERIFICATION

TITLE	NAME	SIGNATURE	DATE
Qualified Person:
Qualified Person:
Safety Foreman:			